2010 Northern Ohio Fly Tying Expo™

January 16, 2010

North Coast Fly Fishers are very pleased to announce major improvements for the 2010 Northern Ohio Fly Tying Expo™. The 2010 show, supporting NCFE educational programs, will be held in the facilities of Lakeland Community College in Kirtland, Ohio. These facilities are larger and brighter, enabling all exhibitors and tiers to be on the main floor, and including an expanded fly casting demonstration area. This well-known facility, conveniently located adjacent to I-90 on Cleveland's east side, is nearer the population center of Northeast Ohio, and is expected to attract a larger turnout of 800 to 1000 fly fishers.

We invite you to participate in this event that has become a destination show known for excellence. It includes educational seminars of interest to current and potential fly fishers and tiers. It attracts an audience from throughout Ohio, western Pennsylvania, Michigan and Indiana. A diverse group of vendors have found success at the show and return regularly. Several celebrity fly tiers find a very receptive audience, and tiers from Federation of Fly Fishers clubs in the region add diversity. We believe that you will also find success at the show, and that you will make a valuable contribution to the interests of the attendees.

Beginning immediately, commitments from new vendors will be accepted on any space available. Full payment, including table fees, will guarantee your space. No partial payments will be accepted. Checks should be payable to North Coast Fly Fishers.
